PREGNANCY
RESOURCE CENTER
OF NORTHEAST COLORADO

We bring hope to you!

A Sacred Space

As the colors of fall begin to surround us, we are reminded of God's beautiful handiwork and the precious gift of life. Each day at A Caring Pregnancy Resource Center, we have the privilege of witnessing that gift in a very special way through ultrasound services.

The ultrasound room is often a sacred space. It is where fear can turn to hope, where a mother hears her baby's heartbeat for the first time, and where she sees the tiny life growing within her. In those moments, uncertainty often gives way to clarity as the reality of her baby becomes clearly real.

Recently, a young woman came to one of our centers feeling overwhelmed and unsure about her future. Anxious and carrying many unanswered questions, she wasn't certain what her next step would be. During her ultrasound, she saw her baby on the screen and heard the heartbeat for the first time. Tears filled her eyes as she quietly took it all in. Before leaving, she shared, "I didn't know what to do before today, but now I know this is my baby."

Moments like these remind us why ultrasounds are such a vital part of our ministry. They provide important information while also creating a meaningful connection between a mother and her child. Through compassionate care and the opportunity to see and hear their baby, many women find the support, confidence, and hope they need to choose life.

Because of your prayers, generosity, and faithful partnership, these life-changing moments happen across our five centers. As we celebrate the sacred gift of life, we invite you to join us at our annual banquet this January. We are honored to feature the beautiful artwork, “Fearfully and Wonderfully Made,” by Victoria Fisher, whose work captures the wonder and value of life so beautifully, and to welcome Andrew Wood as our keynote speaker. Together, we will celebrate what God is doing through this ministry and the lives being impacted because of faithful partners like you.

Thank you for helping women and families experience hope, encouragement, and the love of Christ when they need it most.

OUR MISSION
The mission of A Caring Pregnancy Resource Center of Northeast Colorado is to provide information, resources, and support to individuals facing pregnancy in Northeast Colorado.

AFFILIATIONS
ACPRC is a 501(c)3 faith-based non-profit organization since 1999, registered in the State of Colorado. We receive training and certification from CareNet, Heartbeat International, National Institute of Family Life Advocates, and The Center for Relationship Education.

Give Online

Ten members of our team attended the Rocky Mountain Conference at Glen Eyrie Castle, where we had the opportunity to learn from other pregnancy center leaders, gain valuable training, and be encouraged in the work God has called us to do.

Three NJC students won gift baskets from our table (thank you Stacy and Quinnlynn) during the Community Fair welcoming new students. "Thank you for being a part of this special event and for investing in our incoming freshman."

Jenn R. and Heather H. traveled to Houston for the annual CareNet Conference. It was impactful and refreshing both personally and professionally.

Liz M. presented about ACPRC at the Lutheran Women's Missions Conference in Holyoke - and they generously donated many baby items.

A Word from Our Executive Director

Greetings Friends,
One of my greatest joys in serving with A Caring Pregnancy Resource Center is witnessing God's faithfulness through the people He brings alongside each of the five centers. Whether it's a volunteer giving their time, a church hosting a baby bottle campaign, a donor making a gift, or a client choosing life, I am constantly reminded that we are all part of something much bigger than ourselves.

Over the past few months, we have been blessed to welcome several new ladies to our team. Each person has brought fresh energy, unique gifts, and a heart for serving others. Watching them connect with clients and jump into the mission has been such an encouragement. I would appreciate your prayers as they continue learning, growing, and becoming part of the ACPRC family.

Recently, a young expectant mother came to one of our centers feeling overwhelmed, alone, and uncertain about the future. After receiving practical resources, encouragement, and a listening ear, she shared, "I came here feeling scared and alone, but now I feel like I have hope and people who care about me and my baby." Her words remind us why this ministry exists. So often, simple acts of kindness become powerful reminders of God's love and hope.

One way we share that hope is through diaper bags given to new moms. These bags are given to clients as they prepare to welcome their babies and often become a treasured resource filled with essentials and information for their parenting journey.

Currently, we are looking for a donor, church, business, or community group willing to help provide diaper bags for our centers in Brush, Sterling, Yuma, Holyoke, and Wray. For many moms, this simple gift communicates a powerful message: You matter, your baby matters, and you are not alone.

Thank you for your prayers, generosity, and partnership. Together, we are helping women and families across Northeast Colorado experience hope, support, and the love of Christ.

Amanda J. Shay
